PROSPECTUS OF

KENDALL'S EXPOSITOR. TO THE PEOPLE OF THE U. STATES.

THE undersigned proposes, as a future occupapaper, called KENDALL'S EXPOSITOR. Should the Administration be wastained in the present confliet, as his faith in the propie persuades him to relieve, there is still much to be done to secure the avancement and perpetuity of pure principles in our Government; and if perchance A shall be defeated there will be mo occasion for all humest effluents to prevent the mischnels apprehended from the mer who may come into power. To those objects the undersigned has determine do to devote the remnant of his life; and he can think of no means through which he can act so efficiently as a newspaper cheup enough to be within the reach of every man who is able to read. Raised to latio on a form, be has never ceased to cherish the interest of those who labor for a living; and, knowing them to be the most victious and deserving portion of society, one of the most cherished desires of his heart is to see them aroused to the importance of giving more of their reading, their thoughts, and heir time to the affairs of Government. Yet, not to them exclusively, but also to all other men, wha do not seek to obtain, through the laws, advantages Ever their fellow men, he will address himself in the oposed publication. The main objects noticed in this paper will be as follows, viz :

1. Suffrage is the basis of free government. He that cheats at elections is guilty of the worst kind of treason, and should be punished as a traitor. He who gives utterance to a falsehood, for the purpose of influencing a voter, is but little better. To de nounce cheating, bribery, and falsehood, when deteeted, and suggest effective preventives, will be a leading object of the proposed paper. In this tha undersigned does not intend to be any respector of parties; for one who resorts to such means for the accomplishment of political ends, whatever he may eall himself, is no Democrat, and is an enemy to the

2. Abuses of privileges and corruption have made much progress in the legislative department of our Government, and have occasionally shown themselves in other departments. These, as far as known will be denounced, by whatever party they may be practised. In every abuse of privilege, or unexercise of power, the individual committing it strikes a blow at public virtue, the only lasting basis of free institutions. 3. The principles of modern banking, and the manner in which banks and public debts operate opon the labor, trade, and property of the community. are not well understood. One of the chief object in this paper will be, by facts and illustrations, i make these matters plain to all who will read and discuss the proposed remedies for existing evils .--JOHN D. FREEMAN, candidate for Attorney This will involve an exposition of the nature and uses of money, together with a history of the origin progress, and effects of paper money in Europe and

America. To these will be added, a notice of all new dis coveries and inventions which promise to be useful to mankind, as also of facts, experiments, and improvements which may be instructive to the farmer and mechanic; a summary of news, loreign and do mestic, carefully compiled, constituting an accurate history of passing events; abstracts of important public documents, and miscellaneous matter, selected and original, instructive and entertaining. In fine, she object is to furnish a newspaper which will pregent to the farmer, planter, mechanic, merchant, and all other readers, the true interests of those who live by the cultivation of the soil and other laborious occupations involving the interests of all useful trade and incite them always to regard those interests, in voting for public agents, to inculcate that honesty and truth should be the guide of every man in public as well as private file; and a sacred regard for the rights of property, as well as personal rights, is essential to the happiness of man in a state of society; that it is only through a fair ballot that we should look for the correction of existing evils, and the prevention of those we lear; and that a true Democrat should never think of revolution by force until he finds himself deprived of the right of suffrage, or the majority is perseveringly stifled by fraud or force at

Though thoroughly Democratic in principle, this paper will not be made the vehicle of ordinary clectioneering matter, nor will it engage in or admit mere personal controversy. It will not conceal its preferences for men or parties, but will seek to influcuce results only by appeals to reason, and through the instrumentaliay of fact and argument.

That a true Democrat ought never to despair, the first article in the undersigned's political creed-Man is capable of indefinite improvement in knowl-4th edge and virtue. These are the bases of Demicra If we know that he cannot reach perfection,we know also that he may become better tuan he is. Hope and faith are the motives of the Christian 14th teacher. They should be the stay and stumius or 15th the Democrat. With him they are strengthened by knowledge; for he sees and knows that man us ad vancing, and may be made to advance more rapidly in all those acquirements which enable him to govern himself. If arrested by force and tyranny today 22 d he will resume his onward march to-morrow. 23rd | degress, the great mass of men are becoming fami 25th list with their rights and conscious of their power. 26th | they may become so well informed that none will co Wednesday do 27th attempt to deceive them, and so determined, that none will dare assail them by force. To aid in the improvement of man is the highest remaining ambi-3005 tion of the undersigned. He has seen much of the world, has had some experience in public affairs, bas witnessed much human depravity, suffered some wrong, and met with much to discourage exerions for the good of his country and his race; but never for a moment has be lost his faith in man's high destiny, or relaxed his determination to contribute to his advancement, under all discouragements. If he shall reap no personal advantages from his course, beyond a consciousness of doing his duty, his children, his children's children, and myriads of human beings hereafter to live, may, by his examples and labors, however humble and feeble, be made nore intelligent and more happy. At any rate, in this glorious hope he intends to labor, live, and die.

Who will and him in this ordertaling!

THE EXTRA GLOBE.

The publishers of the Globe have recently givto the country an exposition of the motives which implied the attempt by the Federal party to prosis their establishment, by the lawiess abrogation their contract as Printers to the Senate. howed that there were already at Federal newspapers-to which a seventh is about to be addedpublished at Washington-all devoted to the disacmarion of Federal processes; and the defence of Federal measures. And to make this overwhelming battery of Federal presses at the seat of Government tell with the more effect through the Union, the charter of the Globe was to be tarnshed; its means impoverished, and its political influence destroyed by a sweeping denunciation of infamy on the parof the Federal leaders in the Senate-by throwing the dead weight of an expenditure of $40,000 preparation to do the Congressionsi work, on the hands of its publishers, (the printers whose contract was violated,) and by having this whole work of defamation and ruin accomplished by the judgment of the Senate of the Union to give it the sanction of the highest tribunal known to our country. The work was done by a caucus packed majority of Federalists, and the Editors of the Globe are left to sustain their establishment by the patron age they may receive from political friends for the papers they publish. We will not ask or receive the sort of lumping contribution by which the banks and Federal politicians sustain their presses. We will abandon the publication of the Globe, if it cannot be supported by the regular subscription price of the paper. If such of our Democratic friends whose circumstances do not justify a subcopper complexion, stout built, 25 years of age, 5 scription to the daily or semi-weekly, will patronize the cheaper publications issued by us-the Extra Globe-the Congressional Globe, and Appendix-we shall be enabled to maintain, as heretofore, our corps of Congressional Reporters at the cost of $3,000 per annum, and to draw to our aid some of the ablest pens in our country. We trust under these circumstances, and at a time when the greatest interest of the country, and its future destiny are put at stake upon the events with which the first year of the present Administration is pregnant, that no individual who has the cause of Democracy at heart, will besitate to meet this appeal, when at the same time he will feel assured that this tax for his own advantage, will sustain in triumph at Washington the long-tried and faithful press of his party. The Extra Gloss will be published weekly for x months, commencing on Wednesday, the 19th May, and ending on the 19th November next, makng twenty-six numbers, the last of which will consin an index. Each number will contain sixteen royal quarto pages. It will contain principally poutical matter. The political aspect and bearing of the measures before Congress during the special session will be fully developed, and when the proceedings are considered of much interest to the pubic, they will be given at length.

The CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND AP-PENDIX, will begin with the extra session of Congress, to commence on Monday, the 31st of May next; and will be continued during the session-The Congressional Globe will contain a synopsis of the proceedings of both Houses of Congress; and the APPENDIX, all the speeches on important subjects at full length, as written out, or revised, by the members themselves. They will be printed as fast as the business of the two Houses fornishes matter for a number. It is certain that we will publish more numbers of each than there will be weeks in the session. They will be printed in the same form as the Extra Globe, and a copious index printed to each. Nothing but the proceedings and speches of congress will be admitted into the Congressions! or appendix.

These works being printed in a suitable form for hinding, with copious indexes, will form a valuable indeed, a necessary, appendage to the library of the statesman, and politician giving, as they do, at an extremely moderate price, a complete epitome of the political and legislative history of the period. Subscriptions for the Extex Globe should be here by the 26th May, and for the Congressional Globe and APPENDIX by the 6th June next, to insure all

By the extraordinary points revolution which the past few months have wither ed, a crisis is produced in the history of our man tutions calculated to test severely both their perms nence and their value. All the fruits of the bu-This court has original jurisdiction in civil cases, struggles which have so deeply convulsed the on mony in its practice, with the original principles of which it was based, we suddenly find placed a ; situation of imminent jeopardy, even if they are sait to be regarded as already lost. The wholebatte of the past three Presidential terms is to be fought use again; again have we to go through the great is tional discussion which we had supposed extension and terminated, on the vital question involves the destines of the Republic through annumber future years.

In this contest, the Democratic Review will so enpy the same position that it has ever maintained It will combat with all the energy it can summer in defence of the rights of the people, in a learner and stordy resistance of every partial scheme Jones, Jackson, Green, Perry, Wayne, Clarke, and policy, animated by the consciousness that wife, its arm in a great and good cause, and by the way that it may contribute in some degree to the magnificent movement that has been started lowers a future of more glorious enlargement and freedom.

The importance of such a periodical must be to ident. Discussing the great questions of policy tefore the country, expounding and advocating the Democratic doctrine through the most able pent the that party can furnish, in articles of greaterings, more condensed force, more claborate research, 20, more elevated tone than is possible for the acept per press, a Magazine of this character becomes instrument of inappreciable value for the enlighter ment and formation of public opinion, and for p support of the principles which it advocates. B these means, by thus explaining and defending inmeasures of the Democratic party, and by always furnishing to the public a slear and powerful curmentary upon those complex questions of pairs which so frequently distract the country, and upon which, imperfectly understood as they often are hi friends, and misrepresented and distorted as ther never fail to be by political opponents it solds utmost importance that the public should be fall and rightly informed, it is hoped that the penodes! in question may be made to exert a benefical, to tional, and lasting influence on the public mind.

Co-ordinate with the main design of The United States Magazine, no care nor cost will be spured render it, in a Literary point of view, henorable the country, and fit to cope in vigor of rivalry will its European competitors. Viewing the Eagus language as the noble heritage and common birtiright of all who speak the tengue of Milion and Shakspeare, it will be the uniform object with cea ductors to present only the finest productions in the various branches of literature that can be procured and to diffuse the benefit of correct models of sane and worthy execution. In this department the exclusiveness of part. which is inseparable from the political department of such a work, will have no place. Here we a stand on a neutral ground of equality and recipion ty, where those universal principles of taste to which we are all alike subject, will alone be recognised a the common law. Our political principles cannot be compromised, but our common literature it will be Although in its political character The United States blagazine addresses its claims to the support of the Democratic party, it is hoped that it ath features referred to above-independently of the parties, and from the large class of no party. THE EDITORS. New York, June 1, 1841.
